Staff Training: How are staff at Oasis Academy Oldham helped to work with a student with SEND and what training do they have?

The SENCO's job is to support subject teachers in planning for students with SEND. The SENCO has additional postgraduate qualifications in Dyslexia and has the National Award for SENCOs (NASENCO).

Oasis Academy Oldham has an Academy Improvement Plan, including identified training needs for all staff to improve the teaching and learning of students, including those with SEND. This may include whole school training on SEND issues or to support identified groups of learners in school, such as ASD, dyslexia, differentiation, etc.

Individual teachers and support staff attend training courses run by outside agencies which are relevant to the needs of specific students in their class e.g., from), HYM (Mental Health), the Educational Psychology Service and the Hearing-Impaired team.

Professional development takes place on a regular basis. If you would like to hear about the training which is currently taking place for the staff at Oasis Academy Oldham, please speak to the SENCO.

Monitoring student progress

How do we measure the progress of our students and keep parents informed?

- Student progress is continually monitored by the subject teacher.
- Their progress is reviewed formally every term. GCSE grades indicate the students' current and predicted level. End of term reports provide information regarding the student's attendance, classwork, homework and behaviour.
- The progress of students with an EHC Plan is formally reviewed at an annual Person-Centred Planning Meeting with parents and the student present.
- The SENCO will monitor students' progress within any individual or group provisions that they take part in. The SENCO may also use reading age and spelling age tests.
- Parents will also be invited to parent evenings calendared throughout the academic year.

How does the academy let parents know if they have any concerns about their child's learning in school?

When classroom teaching is not meeting the needs of a student, the teacher will raise this with the SENCO who will gather information from all subject teachers across the curriculum. If the student is then identified as not making progress, the school will decide whether to monitor this or set up an intervention group (at this point parents will be informed).

If they are still not making expected progress the following will be discussed with parents and student in a person-centred review: -

- Making sure that we are truly considering the experiences of the person, their family and those supporting them when reviewing how well things are going.
- Creating an environment where people are made to feel comfortable in expressing themselves honestly.
- Developing actions that are based on experiences and learning, leading to an environment where we're constantly improving our support.

Moving a pupil on or off the SEND Register:

The following sources inform a decision to place pupils on the SEND register and movement off the register.

- Information from previous school
- Staff concerns
- Information from the parent/carer
- Specialist teacher /professionals' reports
- Internal Assessments
- Reading and spelling quotients
- Medical reports
- Advice from QEST
- Progress monitoring
- KS2 attainment levels

This includes:

- Assessment data and provision management outcomes which indicate progress.

When pupils have higher levels of need, we refer to specific specialist professional agencies to assess for example, Educational Psychologists (EP), Physical and Sensory support service, or Speech and Language support service.

Differentiation: How will the teaching be adapted for students with learning needs or SEND?

Planning and teaching will be adapted daily if needed to meet the students' learning needs and increase their access to what is on offer. Subject teachers plan lessons according to the specific needs of all groups of students in their class and will ensure that learning tasks are adjusted in order to enable them to access their learning as independently as possible. Specific resources and strategies will also be used to support students individually and in groups.

How the Academy support students when they are new to the academy, moving classes or leaving the academy:

How will the Academy support students with identified special needs starting at the Academy?

- We will first invite parents and students to visit the school to look around and speak to staff.
- If other professionals are involved, an additional meeting will be held to discuss the students' needs; share strategies used; and ensure provision is put in place before they start.
- We will provide key transition information to the student and their family

For students moving to Oasis Academy Oldham from Primary School

The SEND team will attend the feeder primary schools to discuss the specific needs of all students with additional needs.

- Parents will be invited to visit us on Year 6 Open evening, held in the first term.
- We will arrange additional visits to the Academy for students who need extra support with looking around the building, perhaps at a quieter time. This will be discussed with parents.
- The Academy transition team may visit students in their primary school on several occasions. Where students are 'Looked After' or have an EHC Plan, a member of staff will attend the year 6 Annual Review.
- We will provide student who need additional transition support with a booklet and activities to help them get to know the school and alleviate any anxieties
- All students will be involved on transition days; however, students with additional needs who may struggle with transition will also be invited to additional transition days.

For students moving classes or year groups

- The SENCO will pass information on to the new subject teachers and tutors.
- Student's details and recommended strategies to support them are shared with staff in a secure staff area.
- Staff access the school database to gather appropriate information to aid classroom support.

- The Academy will provide evidence of additional classroom or exam-based support.

What support does Oasis Academy Oldham have for parents of students with SEND?

The Deputy SENCO or SENCO are available to meet with parents to discuss their child's progress or any concerns / worries they may have.

All information from outside professionals will be shared with parents in person or via a written report. The SENCO will share the results of any new assessments and support strategies suggested by outside agencies with parents. Parents will be notified when new support measures are implemented and are invited to discuss these with the SENCO.

The Academy asks that all parents keep us informed about effective strategies which support their child in the home. This can support the Academy to help the student transfer appropriate effective strategies into the classroom.

How is the academy physically accessible to children with SEND?

The academy ensures that equipment used is accessible to all students regardless of their needs. We undertake a standard accessibility plan which is reviewed annually or whenever a student with specific needs joins the academy.

Adaptions are made to classrooms to ensure that students can participate in all lessons. Adaptions may include height adjustable sinks and workstations. The school is accessible to students with physical disability via ramps and a lift. Please see the Disability Equality Policy/Accessibility Plan on the school website under school policies.

How does the Academy support the emotional wellbeing of students with SEND?

The Academy staff are committed to ensuring emotional support for the wellbeing of students. Those identified as particularly vulnerable are provided with a daily meet and greet, during which mood is assessed and support offered. Support is available via staff from the SEND base or Personal Pathways Provision who may, if appropriate, refer students to Tog MIND and Place 2 Be offering specialist support within school hours. In addition, staff offer interventions for students with social, emotional and mental health difficulties as part of individualised packages of support.

In addition, Head of Years and key SEN staff ensure that issues relating to students' wellbeing are discussed with parents and carers on a regular basis to ensure the best packages of care.

How does the Academy support students with SEND who are vulnerable or feel bullied?

Students with SEND have named key workers who they can go to with any concerns; for example, if they are experiencing exam stress, are worried about bullying from other students or need to discuss how their individual needs affect their day to day lives in school. Students can speak with the Faculty Intervention Lead who supports them in class or with Pastoral Leaders:

Mrs. Hinchliffe/Mrs. Sheridan

Mrs. Ford/Mr. Jacobs

Miss Hallam/Ms. Rose

Mrs. Brown/Mr. Owens

Miss Shearing/Mr. Mirza

In addition, the SENCo, Mx. Locke is available to talk to in confidence. Students can also ask to speak with their Head of Year about any worries. Students at the academy are encouraged to speak to any member of staff if they are worried or concerned.

As a school, we are aware that students with SEND may be particularly vulnerable to bullying or difficulties with peer relationships and that they may wish to discuss these concerns with parents in the first instance rather than approaching school staff. Parents are encouraged to contact the Year of Year, Pastoral Leaders, Assistant SENCo and/or SENCo to report any issues.

Raising a Concern

How can I let the academy know I am concerned about my child's progress?

If parents have concerns about their child's progress, they should speak to their child's Pastoral Tutor or Head of Year.

If parents are concerned that their child is still not making progress, they should speak to the Deputy SENCO or SENCO.

If parents are still not happy, they can request to meet with the Principal by contacting the Principal's PA on 0161 624 9630. The Principal's PA is also able to help you make a formal complaint in accordance with the Complaints Procedure.
